Red Cup Nation: From College Parties to DJing for Drake & Diddy

Perry and Matt make up the Producer/DJ group Red Cup Nation. Both originally from the Philly area met while attending college in Florida. They were inspired by the likes of DJ Snake, Major lazer and DJ Carnage. They formed the group and went on to become some of the biggest college DJ's in the country.

RCN went on to do 4 major college tours around the US. Shortly after they moved to Los Angeles and started touring the US, Mexico and Canada. While headlining major clubs, they also opened up for artists such as Steve Aoki, Dillon Francis and Diplo.

The duo also made a name in Hollywood by djing for top celebrities like Drake and Diddy. They have also done events for the Los Angeles Lakers, djing their championship party.

This past April Red Cup Nation released a single called "No Games" featuring Wiz Khalifa, Tory Lanez and Ricky P. They also plan on releasing a EP in August and will be going on a summer tour.
